STRUCK OIL.

While Boring for Water the Drill Strikes Petroleum.

Mr. F. A. Lofgreen of St. David in this county called at the Prospector office today and informed us that he had struck oil Saturday on his place, while drilling for artesian water.

He thinks it probable the drill penetrated the oil bearing strata last Thursday, but it was not noticed until Saturday. At first the nature of the substance was a mystery to those working with the drill, one gentleman thinking that a soap mine had been discovered. It was finally decided, however, to be oil.

The drill encountered the oil at a depth of 290 feet. It is of a dark, yellowish color, about the consistency of sorghum molasses, and burns readily when ignited and while burning has the unmistakable odor of coal oil.

This find was a good deal of a surprise to all the residents of that locality, although Mr. Lofgreen says that he has frequently noticed dark looking spots in the ground which at first glance looked as if caused by moisture in the soil. On examination, however, these spots were found to not contain moisture, but were discolored by some other agency. He now believes this discoloration to be caused by the same oil seeping to the top of the ground.

He will let the artesian water rest for a while and will thoroughly investigate the new find. Some samples of the oil will be sent to the Arizona University for analysis.

Should it transpire that Mr. Lofgreen has actually discovered petroleum and it should exist in paying quantity it will add one more and a very important industry to the many resources of Cochise county.

MINING AS A BUSINESS.

A Comparative Showing With Other Pursuits.

The following excellent and opportune pointers are from Mr. Erasmus Wiman's "Chances of Success": "It is a fact which nobody can ignore that this continent is a treasure house in the matter of gold, quite equal in value to the vast wealth got out of the mines in iron, in copper, in coal, and especially in silver.

"That the low grade ore business is attracting attention as a basis for manufacturing industry, is shown by the success of numerous mines in various parts of the country.

"The ability of such a mine as the Treadwell Alaska property to mine and mill ore at as low a rate as 80 cents a ton, shows what can be done in the shape of the cost and product. If ores are scattered through the country worth $10 a ton there is a possibility of profit in this direction far more certain than in a majority of vocations.

"A manufacturing industry which will take out of a ton of rock from $4 to $10 worth of gold at a cost of from 80 cents to $2 has a better chance for success than that which spins wool by a spindle loom, and makes it into cloth to be peddled all over the country on long credits, and sold at an advance on the cost for less than can be realized from the manufacture of gold."

E. J. Triplett, who is register of the United States land office at Tucson, says that Graham county is settling up more land than any other county in the territory at the present time and shows that the county is prosperous and pushing.

A telegram from J. W. Boyle of Holbrook, Arizona, asks Dr. J. C. Norton, veterinary surgeon of Arizona, to come to that locality, as on Monday night four freight horses died there, the cause of death being unknown—Gazette.

Mr. H. C. Conkley, a newspaper man of ability, is said to have visited Bisbee and believes the field at the copper camp for a second newspaper good. The Prospector is informed Mr. Conkley expects to move a well equipped printing plant from New Mexico to Bisbee, and soon that thriving burg will have two newspapers.

OUR INDIANS.

The Condition and Status of the Arizona Redskins.

There are 38,000 Indians in the territory, who occupy five reservations, aggregating 618,397 acres. The governor in his report recommends this land should be allotted in severalty and the Indians be encouraged to cultivate the soil so as to enable them to become self supporting. Until such a plan is adopted, however, the Indians should be kept upon their respective reservations under the most stringent regulations and not be allowed to wander therefrom, at has been the case in the past, and commit depredations upon the property of the settlers, entailing a loss of thousands of dollars. Three hundred and seventy-one Indian children attended the schools established by the government. The service has been productive of very gratifying results and should be enlarged and extended. The cost of maintaining the schools during the year was but $42,909.96.

MINING NEWS.

A Mill for Pearce—Another Big Deal.

Several mining deals of considerable magnitude are being negotiated in this county which, if consummated, will mean extensive operations on a large scale and tend to aid in advertising our section and bringing to the notice of other capitalists the fact that within our borders some rare mining opportunities exist and but need capital to make them dividend payers.

C. D. Lane, the millionaire mine owner, it is understood is interesting himself in the purchase of some valuable properties in the Doe Cabezas gold district. We are not at liberty to give any further particulars, but suffice it to say that should the transfer be made a mill of large capacity will at once be erected and extensive work begun.

It is also stated that a 20-stamp mill is to be erected at Pearce within a few months, for the Commonwealth Mining company. A mill belonging to Manager Brockman which has been in operation at White Signal, N. M., will be torn down and shipped to Pearce.

It is also understood that when depth has been attained on the Gold Cliff, which is located near the Commonwealth, the company also intend to put up reduction works. Thus Pearce has a bright and promising future for a thriving mining town.

Mr. William Conyers and Miss Frances Larrieu were married at Fairbank last evening. Mr. Conyers is a prosperous and popular cattle man, whose ranges are in the Whetstones, and the bride a daughter of L. Larrieu, the pioneer citizen of Fairbank. The Prospector joins in best wishes and congratulations to the happy couple.

Mr. Frederick Stock returned today from a visit to Pearce to look after the Gold Cliff company's property. He states that three shifts of men are working and the shaft will be put down to the 200-foot level as soon as possible. A company office and assay office will be at the mine within a few days. The road to the mine has been graded and the mine itself is showing up better daily. He will return to Pearce tomorrow.

THE MANLESS ISLE.

Bisbee Youths Who Want to Go There.

In reply to a letter sent to San Francisco some time since inquiring about the proposed trip to the "Manless Isle," an account of which appeared in the San Francisco Examiner a few weeks ago, the following reply was received in Bisbee by one of our young men who, with some six or eight others, was thinking of joining the expedition. The letter appeared in the Orb, and is as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12, 1896.

Mr. —, Bisbee, Ariz.—Your letter of inquiry regarding the South Sea Island expedition received.

We expect to sail by January 15, 1897. You must deposit $50.00 with the treasurer as a membership fee, which goes for vessel, arms and provisions; you must also pass a medical examination, as we want no sick men, and you must also furnish references as to character—if you can do as above you are acceptable.

Our colony will be run on co-operative lines.

We expect to go into general farming of tobacco, sugar, figs and all tropical fruits.

If you can manage to come down here in person it would be the most proper thing to do—this would allow of full investigation on your part.

If you decide favorably let me know by return. Respectfully,

L. J. REINHART, 547 Mission St.

SCHLATTER'S AGENT.

"The 'Divine Healer' Comes Not to Heal, but Preach."

The world has ceased to be curious about the whereabouts of the strange weird Colorado healer who looked like the picture of Christ, says the Kansas City Star. He is about to reappear and may create as much excitement by his evangelic eloquence as he created by his silent cure of the diseases of humanity.

A young man from Denver, H. B. Magill announces in Kansas City today that Francis Schlatter the hyper-famous "divine healer" will soon return to Denver from Mexico.

"He will not come to heal but to preach," said Mr. Magill, whose card stated that he was the "author and publisher of the 'Life and Works of Francis Schlatter.'"

"It will surprise you to know that Schlatter is not as ignorant, simple man, a mere inspired shoemaker but a man of great learning, who speaks many languages. The idea that he was an ignorant shoemaker was owing to his absolute silence while engaged in his wonderful healing."

Advertised Letters.

The following is a list of letters remaining in the general delivery at the Tombstone postoffice for the week ending December 12, 1896:

James Brewster, M. L. Lewis, Miss Anna Bush.

When calling for above letters, say advertised, giving date of advertisement.

EMIL SYDOW, P. M.

Marvelous Recovery.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rivers Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Tombstone and any Drug Store. Regular size 50c. $1.00
